Dome Watchman May Start New Feud

The county board of supervisors today was heading for another clash with County Executive Frederick Peterson, this time over a part-time watchman who is to guard the courthouse during weekends and holidays.

The supervisors agreed with Peterson that such a watchman is needed, but the board wanted to know why one wasn't at work already.

Supervisor Henry W. Edmonds said that $800 was set up during the last fiscal year for such a purpose and thought that money had been budgeted this year.

He was named as a committee of one to investigate:

1. If money had been budgeted.
2. What happened to the money.

Edmonds said that he was puzzled by the role of one custodian who apparently guards the parking lot in the morning and later doubles as elevator operator.

'Outstanding Citizen' Award To Highlight C of C Banquet

Each year American Legion Post 105 presents its plaque to the individual named by a board of judges to be the one contributing the most to the development or improvement of Redwood City.

This year, residents were given the opportunity to ballot through a form printed in the Tribune. The entries were submitted to the judges—a group representing civic organizations in this city—who balloted on the records of each person.

1935—Mrs. F. M. Perkins.
1936—Mrs. Z. T. Thorning.
1937—Mrs. Mary Winters.
1938—Capt. L. F. Bosshart.
1939—Mrs. Bertha Andrews.
1940—Vernon Crowe.
1941-'45—No awards.
1946—Mrs. Henry A. Beeger.

The presentation will be made by Louis Dematteis, representing the sponsoring American Legion post.

Sharing the spotlight Wednesday will be Almon Roth, San Francisco industrialist and past president of Rotary International

E. W. Butler, chamber of commerce manager, reported that tickets are still available and may be obtained by calling the chamber office, EM. 6-2533.

Butler said that several groups have called off their regular meetings this week in favor of the chamber of commerce dinner, at which time the new officers will be introduced.

Investigate Death Of SC Man

The coroner's office here announced Monday that it was investigating the death of Charles L. Henck, 615 Old County Rd., San Carlos, a merchant, who died of undeterminted cause in a county ambulance on the way to Community Hospital Sunday morning.

15 to 1 Vote In Menlo Park Building Plan

In one of the largest turnouts for a school election in nearly 20 years, voters of the Menlo Park Elementary School Dist. approved a $375,000 bond issue by a 15 to 1 margin Friday.

The vote in the Menlo Park district was 948 in favor of the bonds, 62 against them.

Mrs. Helen Beach, inspector at the Central School polls, said this morning that the vote was the heaviest on a school issue in the 19 years she has served on election boards.

The results of the balloting at Central School were 466 for and 35 against the bonds, which will be for construction of a $300,000 10-unit school at Encinal Ave. and Middelfield Rd.

At Fremont School the tally was 482 in favor of and 27 against the bond issue.

School officials had urged passage of the measure to ease the overcrowded conditions now in existence.

Civil Service Group To Set 70-Year Top For County Employes

All San Mateo County civil service employes will have to retire at the age of 70, on the basis of a new amendment which the commission is drawing up.

The amendment to the rules was ordered drafted at Friday's meeting. It will be presented for public hearing at the next civil service meeting, and adopted after a second hearing.

Personnel Dir. Russell J. Cooney explained that the new regulation will affect an estimated 50 employes.

All classified employes hired before they are 55 years old fall under the compulsory retirement act. They retire at 70 with pensions for which money has been deducted from their pay.

The county has no maximum age limit for the hiring of new workers. A man who is hired when he is over 55 thus is not eligible for retirement benefits, and at present could continue working until he dies.

The new amendment would affect this latter class. However, since no pay deductions toward retirement will be made, this class of workers will receive no pensions.

Cooney said that two or three persons who fall into the latter classification already are over 70, and would have to retire as soon

Randall Again Heads CSC

Albert H. Randall of Burlingame has been reelected chairman of the San Mateo County Civil Service Commission, Personnel Dir. Russell J. Cooney announced today.

Anthony J. Gaggero of Daly City was reelected vice chairman.

Two weeks ago in the absence of Gaggero and George R. Keyston, the other commissioners elected the former chairman and the latter vice chairman. Both refused the positions in favor of Randall.

Water Shortage Hits Stanford

Stanford's water shortage may become critical this Summer, according to Alf Brandin, business manager. He has sent out a letter to all campus residents requesting them to refrain from sprinkling lawns and planting gardens, because Felt and Searsville Lakes, farm water sources, are at an abnormally low level.

The past two Winters have been extremely dry and the situation already is serious, he said. The university has a two-fold problem: it must have enough water both for fire protection and for irrigation.

Oliver Todd May Oppose Anderson

A retired Palo Alto army engineer, Maj. Oliver Todd, today appeared on the political horizon as a possible Democratic candidate to oppose Republican Jack Z. Anderson in this year's election.

Major Todd's name had been brought into recent Democratic party discussions and he was interviewed last night by members of the Eighth Congressional Committee.

Jonathan Rowell, Redwood City attorney frequently mentioned as a congressional prospect, will appear before the committee next Thursday in Redwood City.

Major Todd is a civil engineer, a one-time aide in the Bureau of Reclamation and most widely known for his work in China in changing the course of the Yellow River. His wife teaches at Stanford University.

In outlining his position on current issues, Major Todd told the committee he favored repeal of part, but not all, of the Taft-Hartley labor law, favored price controls and an increase in the Santa Clara Valley water supply.

He opposed universal military training of infantrymen, but indicated support for such a program if it were aimed at technical skills.

14 in County Become Citizens

San Mateo County gained 14 new citizens last week during impressive ceremonies in the court of Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton.

Assemblyman Richard Dolwig was the principal speaker at the citizenship hearing. He told the 14 petitioners of their rights as United States citizens, comparing the freedom here to the restrictions imposed by Russia.

Two of the persons granted citizenship by Judge Cotton are Adele Frikkers, 139 Hilltop Dr., and Julian M. Sangalang, 763 Hoover St.

Others were Louis Amato Bermoi and Agnes J. Haire, Belmont; Alexander Henderson, Burlingame; Kate Ballard, San Bruno; Ferruccio L. Giuffra, Daly City; Luigi Mencarini, South San Francisco; Romeo M. Perez, Palo Alto; John H. Talbot, Herbert C. Barley, Margaret I. Walter, Marie F. Brennan, and John Swanberg, all of San Mateo.

GARDEN: Langley Tells Who Sends Out Catalogs

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

An oft-used phrase in magazine articles goes, "so I spent the cold winter eating up the bright colored flower and seed catalogs." You've seen that or the equivalent many times, I'm sure, and thought to yourself—"Why I do that, too, except I just LOOK at them." (Well, if prices go much higher, maybe you WILL eat them.)

Anyway, a greenthumber who's read some such writes, "But I don't get any catalogs. Who puts them out in Central California?" I'm sure that a great many nurseries put them out, but I can only say for sure on those who have sent them my way. Excellent catalogs with pratically edible color pictures are available from California Nursery Co. at Niles, Calif.; the Hallowell Seed Co., 519 Market St., San Francisco; the McDonnell Nursery Co., 52nd and Telegraph, Oakland; the Ferry-Morse Seed Co., San Francisco. (If others have good catalogs this year, perhaps they'll send them along, and I can pass the information on to you.)

Reports indicate that the total orange crop this season in California, Florida, Texas, Arizona and Louisiana will be some 5 per cent less than last year. However, grapefruit, lemon and lime production will be slightly greater. So your vitamin intake via citrus fruit, can stay about constant.

The National Garden Institute is sponsoring a meeting in Washington, D. C., Feb. 2, to plan the 1948 Freedom Garden campaign for 20 million vegetable gardens in the USA.

During the war, it is estimated that 12 per cent of the fresh vegetables consumed were grown in Victory Gardens. The drive is at least to equal that production. To make available more foods for shipment abroad? Surely — ir directly. But the primary motive this time is—to combat inflation, to help keep down the high cost of living. That HCL factor affects us all.

So important is it that the United States avoid more inflation which would sooner or later be followed by a depression, that Secretary of State Marshall will attend the garden meeting in Washington, along with Secretary of Agriculture Anderson.

You don't have to plant them just yet, but the next time you pass a seed rack, you'd better get your seed supply of tomatoes, peppers and eggplants. The peppers not only make a tastey wrapper for rice and ground meat—sliced, they add zest to a lettuce salad. And they have vitamins.

Egg plants, sliced and fried in batter, can be substituted for a meat dish on occasion. (Not real occasions, naturally.)

What varieties? Well there's no change this year. You don't have much of a choice on eggplants, and about the only pepper packeted is the California Wonder for this climate.

As for tomatoes, get Victor and Earliana for your early crop, and the Improved Pearson as your main-crop, mid-season variety. The Pearl Harbor, the early variety offered through this column on a trial basis late last spring, is still not available to the general public.

You should have both the early and later strains of tomatoes, and you plant them all at the same time. During January, they can be planted in protected flats, or individual containers.

However, if you have a coldframe (and you should), you can bring your tomatoes along in plenty of time by planting them in the coldframe, under muslin, from Feb. 15 through March 1.

In the cold frame, you plant the seeds in rows six inches apart, and then thin to about six inches apart after they come up.

This gives you sturdy, vigorous plants, and they come along faster, because you don't have to disturb the roots but once—when you set them in the open garden. The peppers and eggplants can go in the same coldframe.

Swiss Chard planted now should produce for eight or nine months, if you like the big stalks, which can be sheared of their greenery and used like sort of an ersatz asparagus, with salad dressing, and served hot or cold.

Yes, we carry a complete line.

ADEQUATE WIRING Certified

Be Prepared
for greater electrical conveniences

Think back to the home or homes you have lived in, the past ten years. Remember the inconvenience of house-wiring from lights that blinked when the refrigerator went on, or the wires you strung along the floor to connect a lamp or clock; or the fuses that blew out when you connected the iron? By spending very little extra money on ADEQUATE WIRING...all these things could have been avoided.

Give Adequate Wiring the place it should have in your home. Plan ahead for the many new home appliances, for better lighting, for television, by wiring ahead for modern Electriliving. Carefully check over wiring plans when you remodel or build and make sure the house-wiring has these essentials:

1. Plenty of plug-in outlets
2. Plenty of light switches properly placed
3. Wires that are large enough (at least number 12 wire) to supply full power to all the appliances that will be used during the lifetime of your home.

17 Per Cent of Voters Ballot on RC Issue, Spinas Lists Plans

Voters in the Redwood City Elementary School Dist. Friday approved a $508,000 school expansion bond issue by an 8 to 1 margin, with a light turnout shown at all seven precincts.

The bonds were approved 1738 to 210, with 21 ballots listed as defaced. A total of 1969 ballots were cast, 17 per cent of the 11,500 registered voters in the district.

The vote by precincts:

School	Yes	No
McKinley	181	26
John Gill	348	32
Lincoln	394	34
Central	110	31
Hoover	217	9
Washington	262	45
Garfield	226	33

Most of the voters went to the polls during the evening commuter hours. At 1:30 p.m. yesterday election officials reported that only 400 persons had voted. However, even the evening rush was not particularly heavy, the election officials pointed out.

Supt. Andrew Spinas last November proposed the $508,000 bond issue because, he declared, even with present construction, the district's schools are badly overcrowded. Since November, two new schools have opened and have had a heavier enrollment than the building can handle.

A number of projects are to be provided through the funds raised by yesterday's bond issue. Among them will be a new school in the Atherton area.

The board of trustees recently acquired a 10-acre site in Atherton on Selby Ln. At that time Spinas said he hoped to build a school within two years.

Also included in the expansion program is an addition at the John Gill School and at the new Hoover School. Spinas said that when the major projects are finished, any money left over would be used for an addition at the new Taft School.

A school site in the Emerald Lake area is to be bought with money raised by the bonds. The school board has not yet made a decision as to what part of Emerald Lake would be best suited for a school, Spinas pointed out, adding that he plans to investigate all possible sites in the Highlands district.

The final part of the expansion program is the construction of a home economics and shop building at the McKinley School and the enlargement of the McKinley cafeteria.

Approval of the bonds brought the bonded indebtedness up to its limit of 5 per cent of the total assessed valuation. The indebtedness now is $1,180,000. According to Spinas, the district is now eligible for state school aid funds for impoverished school districts.

Health Board Issues Edict On Sewage

The State Board of Public Health today had given notice to 22 cities and sanitation districts, including four from San Mateo County, to cease discharging raw domestic sewage into rivers, bay and ocean, or risk legal action.

Officials here said, however, that the notices were reminders of the law that had been passed some time ago, adding that "they keep after us from time to time."

Notices went out in San Mateo County to Belle Haven Sewer Maintenance Dist., Brisbane Maintenance Dist., Menlo Park Sanitary Dist., which includes part of Atherton and Menlo Park, and North Palo Alto Sanitary Dist.

County Engineer M. A. Grant said that remedies could not be made overnight, pointing out that treatment plants cost a lot of money and take a lot of time before they can be put into operation.

Grant said he did not know what legal action could be taken, and added that the State Board of Public Health "has been very cooperative."

No action has been taken at Belle Haven Grant said, but some arrangement may be worked out with the Menlo Park district.

Grant said he is working on plans for Brisbane and is going out Monday to look over grounds for a treatment plant for that area.

He stated that the North Palo Alto district eventually would be taken in by the Menlo Park district. East Palo Alto sewerage goes into the Palo Alto treatment plant.

Plans are going forth in the Menlo Park district, but Secy. Lawrence Cook was unavailable for details today.

The way has been cleared for the calling of a hearing on the proposed Redwood City sewage disposal plant after the County Board of Supervisors readopted a resolution of intention to proceed with work on the plant as a joint venture with Redwood City.

Part of Atherton will use the plant, in addition to Redwood City and the unincorporated area between Redwood City and Atherton.

The county will acquire a half interest in an outfall sewer from the junction of Harbor Rd. to Steinberger St. and will acquire one-third interest in the balance of the project.

City Mgr. E. A. Rolison said that Redwood City should be ready to take bids for construction of the plant soon.

Grant said that property has been acquired at Bayshore Hwy. and Millbrae Ave. for a plant for Millbrae and said the county will turn over data to the Millbrae city engineer when one is appointed.

Willow Rd. Signal Installation Set

Installation of traffic signals at Willow Rd. and Bayshore Hwy. is scheduled to begin early next month and to be completed during the early part of March, M. A. Grant, San Mateo County engineer, announced today.

Grant has been notified by the state division of highways in San Francisco that the project is the next on the list of traffic signal installations.

North Palo Alto residents have pushed a fight to obtain the traffic signals. W. J. Gowans appeared before the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors earlier this month with a petition signed by 125 persons urging installation of the signals.

The county is to pay $4000 of the total cost of $12,000.

Lomita Woman Hurt in Accident

Mrs. Ester Hietzman, 37, of Lomita Park, suffered a minor knee injury Monday night in an automobile collision at El Camino Real and Santa Lucia Ave., Lomita Park.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Jack Hietzman, 41, which was involved in an accident with a sedan driven by John H. Fischer, 27, South San Francisco, which was making a left turn from the highway.

Mrs. Hietzman was treated at South San Francisco Hospital and dismissed.

Two Belmont Places Studied For Bookmaking Activity

City Atty. Paul McCarthy of Belmont told city councilmen Monday night that he had turned the names of two establishments in Belmont, suspected of bookmaking activities, over to the California Utilities Commission in cooperation with the commission's present investigation of the use of telephone and telegraph equipment in bookmaking activities.

McCarthy refused to name the two establishments but said that Police Chief Stanley Botto had reported that one of the places had an unlisted telephone and the other a teletype machine, neither of which was in use when the chief inspected the two establishments.

The commission on Dec. 17 sent McCarthy a letter announcing that it was investigating the bookmaking activities and was asking Belmont to cooperate with other cities in the state in the investigation. The letter also requested a list of any suspected bookies in the city.

McCarthy said that he had received a second letter from Harold P. Huls of the commission, announcing that the commission would hold hearings in Los Angeles on Feb. 18 and in San Francisco on Feb. 25.

Councilman Monday night discussed enlarging the police department and forming a police auxiliary in Belmont after a sharp exchange of words between Chief Botto and Councilman James Sampson, chairman of the police commission.

Sampson requested that Officer Edward "Red" Williams be appointed a sergeant and given an increase in pay. He said that Williams should stay in the station eight hours a day, and then told Botto that he should help children across the intersection of El Camino and Ralston Ave.

Botto retorted that the chief of police doesn't do that in any other city and suggested that a special man should be assigned for the work.

Councilman suggested that a part-time man be employed to take care of children crossing El Camino Real, and after the council discussed briefly formation of a police auxiliary in Belmont, the issue of reorganization in the police department was postponed until the February meeting.

Monday night the council also:

Took under consideration a request by J. L. McDonald of San Mateo to operate a private patrol service in Belmont.

Six RC Commissions To Meet During Week

Six commissions and committees are scheduled to take up Redwood City problems this week.

First to meet were the Planning Commission and the Traffic and Safety Commission which met last night.

Facing the planning group was an agenda including tentative maps of three subdivisions and discussion of standard forms and procedures proposed in connection with a new proposed zoning ordinance.

The Oxford Park subdivision is at the southerly corner of Palm and Oxford Sts. and the Palm Park subdivision is at the westerly corner of Palm and Gordon Sts. A decision on these maps was postponed at the last commission meeting to give commissioners an opportunity to see the land in question.

The other map is for the Lacey and White Subdivision No. 3, an area under annexation proceedings.

Lawrence Wise, planning consultant, has proposed a series of standard forms and procedures for thase seeking use permits and variations under the proposed ordinance. He claims this will make it easier for property owners to understand legal moves they must make in each case.

City Mgr. E. A. Rolison attended the Traffic and Safety Commission session. He said he wanted to learn what had become of a summary to a traffic study made before he took office. He said the charts he had found indicated a thorough study, but that he could find no papers to go with them.

Also facing this commission is the appointment of a new chairman to replace W. Paul Whaley who has moved outside city limits. The commission is now short one member which Rolison is to appoint.

Tonight there will be two other meetings. The Park and Recreation Commission is scheduled to hear Alfred (Red) Morton, recreation director, present figures concerning the installation of baseball facilities at Community Park. A backstop was installed last year on the new city park but still to be obtained are a turfed diamond and bleachers.

Also meeting tonight is a Bond Committee appointed by the city council. This group is charged with restudying a 1944 civic improvement bond issue for $998,000.

It was suggested before the council that because of the increase in prices, some items on the bond issue are unobtainable for the amounts of money set up in the issue. At the same time, certain items in the issue, it is believed, are not necessary. The committee is to recommend whether to ask voters at the next election for a reallocation of the $998,000. It will be the first meeting of this committee.

Wednesday the Creek Committee meets. This committee is authorized to draw a plan for the erection of a structure over Redwood Creek. Store proprietors on Broadway near the creek crossing have complained that the creek is no more than a sewer. Rolison hopes to draw plans for a covering structure which can be submitted to voters to learn whether they want to spend the money for it.

Thursday or Friday the city's Board of Review will meet. A definite date has not yet been set for this group. Facing it is a review of civil service rules and regulations.

This study was started after the City Employees Assn. pointed out that some features of the present rules and regulations are contradictory.

Clyde Chell to Aid Recreation Group

Clyde Chell, former Cincinnati Reds catcher, is scheduled to be on hand tonight at a park and recreation commission session in the city hall. John Poole, commissioner, said that Chell will help the commission consider plans for the installation of baseball facilities at Community Park.

At present the newly purchased park has a baseball backstop but no bleachers or turf. Alfred (Red) Morton, city recreation director, has drawn plans for the installation of a diamond and Chell is to help commissioners with them.

Also meeting at the city hall tonight is the bond committee, set up by the city council to restudy the 1944 civic improvement bond issue for $998,000. Councilmen have ordered the study to determine whether it is advisable to ask voters for a reallocation of the funds involved It has been found that some features in the issue are at present unobtainable at the prescribed figures because of inflation and that other features not necessary. Council seeks to determine whether voters would approve spending funds not needed for some projects on other projects which would not cost more than in 1944.

A meeting scheduled for tomorrow of the city creek committee has been called off so that members can attend the annual chamber of commerce meeting. The committee will meet again next Wednesday to consider means of covering Redwood Creek, which store proprietors charge is nothing more than a sewer where it bisects Broadway.

The city board of review has scheduled a meeting for Friday to consider proposed changes in civil service rules and regulations. Changes were proposed by a committee of City Employes Assn. members.

Campaign Speeded Anti-Billboard

The campaign to prohibit billboards along the new Bayshore Freeway gained momentum today, with the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors receiving a letter of protest from a civic group.

The California Roadside Council wrote the supervisors that it was opposed to the placing of such signs in the vicinity of the San Francisco Airport, as proposed by San Francisco.

The letter was referred to the planning commission, which has received numerous letters of opposition to the proposed signs. The commission last week turned down a request that it permit such signs to be installed in the area, which is zoned residential.

Planning advisers stated before signs could be installed, a request for rezoning the area to commercial or industrial use first must be made.

Ask More Funds For DA's Office

Increased litigation has necessitated the employment of outside legal talent, the district attorney's office informed the board of supervisors Monday in asking for a $5000 fund for such purposes.

The board authorized Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell to retain the services of Hoffman & Draper, legal firm, for pending litigation involving the fiesta commission.

San Carlos Merchants Get Plan to Give Shopper Stamps

Twenty-three merchants of San Carlos, Monday night agreed to consider a plan for "Thrifty Shopper Stamps." Only three merchants went on record as be against the plan.

Harry Marx, chairman, presided at the Merchants' Committee meeting of the chamber of commerce when it met to discuss the plan last night, and to consider the adoption of Merchant Committee bylaws.

Discussion centered around the definition of whom members of the new committee should be. It was decided to possess retail licenses.

The question of what holidays the merchants would remain closed, was divided and ended with a majority vote in favor of the following closures: New Year's, Memorial Day, July 4, Labor Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Washington's Birthday, and Good Friday from noon to 3 p.m.

Quarterly dues were fixed at $15 payable in advance. A merchant delinquent in dues would not qualify as a holder of the newly voted trading stamps, it was agreed. Stamps and books will only be issued to members in good standing.
